

East plot barley trial compares shallow and deep sowing in alternating strips. Count emergence before the first fertilizer application so the treatment comparison is not muddled by different nutrient timing.